DIVERSITY OF VOICES

Choral singing connects people, lets them come together and become creative together. Worldwide, singing together is one of the most popular and widespread forms of human artistic expression. Choral singing creates spaces: spaces of sound, but also spaces of encounter. In Berlin alone, more than 1,000 choirs meet regularly to sing together. Eleven Berlin choirs have been inspired by the space of the Humboldt Forum and will conquer it musically and make it resound this weekend – with individual concerts at various locations throughout the building and in a joint performance in the foyer. And if you feel like joining in, you can do so in workshops or at the evening singalong with Sing dela Sing.

HIGHLIGHTS

SINGALONG CONCERT WITH SING DELA SING

At Sing dela Sing, everyone sings along - even passionate shower singers. From the first moment to the last note, hundreds of people in the audience sing current pop songs together - from ABBA to Avicii, from Peter Gabriel to Peter Fox, from 7 Seconds to 7 Years, from 1999 to 2002. Three pop music professionals accompany the whole thing, the lyrics are lovingly prepared via video projection and within a few minutes, singing together makes everyone infinitely happy.

200 VOICES

Once a day, all the choirs involved in the project gather in the foyer and sing together under the direction of Harry Curtis. This will be the first time that such a polyphonic, powerful sound will fill the largest interior space of the Humboldt Forum. There will be a Hebrew canon, an arrangement of a Bach chorale (composer: Kurt Nystedt) and a musical song that has mutated into a football anthem.

Sunday, 4pm–4:15pm
